February's Advisor Forum

David Tompkins

Free trade and the new "global economy" have created opportunities for Canadians to pursue business and careers outside of Canada. Many Canadian small businesses are testing the "free trade" waters and are expanding into the United States. These trends have created new and exciting opportunities for advisors equipped to provide advice on expatriate employee and health benefits.

With this in mind we have asked CAIFA Vancouver-Fraser Valley member David Tompkins, CLU to share his expertise on this subject with his presentation "Expatriate Employee Benefits and Health Insurance".

David is President of Tompkins Financial Group Ltd., which owns and operates Expat Financial-an international insurance brokerage firm that specializes in life, health, travel and disability insurance to expatriates, their employers and even some local nationals around the world. David has worked in the insurance business since 1991, has a BA (Honours) from Queen's University at Kingston, Ontario.

David has frequently spoken on the subject of expatriate insurance and has written several articles on international insurance issues, including one published in the January, 2000 edition of CAIFA Forum magazine.

See you at the meeting!
